GENERAL NEWS

Holders of 1922 Victory bonds, due December 1, can have their bonds paid off in cash at any branch of any chartered bank in Canada.

An army air-plane steered by wireless has done 90 miles in a trial flight, without any one on board. It can shoot bombs and hit targets, also.

The air is so clear in the Arctic regions that conversations can be carried on easily and without telephone apparatus by persons two miles apart.

When you have made your first home-brew on the kitchen range, just pour a little of it in the sink. If it takes the enamel off, pour it all in the sink.

It must have been a charming voice, that of 15-year-old Marion Talley who so delighted a Kansas city audience that they put up $19,000 for her musical education.

A forest of pines and firs which took 200 years to grow may be destroyed in half as many minutes by a forest fire.

The farmers of Manitoba are talking of being forced into the "bread-line" by combination of grain buyers. They demand "a thorough investigation of the whole grain business."

This startling advertisement recently appeared in a town newspaper: "The ladies of Plum Street church have discarded clothes of all kinds. Call at 44, North Plum Street and inspect them."

"When I want to know what kind of man a young fellow is going to make," says the old citizen of Little Lot in The Youth's Companion, "I just find out what he does between seven and nine o'clock in the evening."

Failure to pay a $50 fine imposed when he was charged with not submitting a federal income tax return, Stephen Paney, a farmer of Dunbar, resulted in his being brought to Brandon to serve a two months' jail term.

The ladies of the Catholic Church wish to extend their thanks to all those who so kindly helped to make the supper and dance, held on 30th November, a success.

PUBLIC LIBRARY

Rules Governing the Operation of Vulcan Library

The Community Club having done its part in installing a community library in our midst, has now disposed of the books, which are now in the care of the Vulcan Library. The new library starts under good auspices. The officers of the library board expect to get departmental aid and very shortly may have a new supply of books. The new library is intended to be of service to a greater number of people than formerly and application cards for memberships may now be obtained at the Library. Subjoined is a copy of the rules and regulations as compiled by the Library Board and new and old members must conform to them in future. The librarian will be glad to be of any service to those requiring any further information. There are 252 readers taking advantage of the benefits derived from the free perusal of about 950 books.

1. The library is free to members.
2. Any taxpayer of the Town of Vulcan may become a member by signing an application card; all others must sign an application card which must also be signed by a taxpayer of the Town of Vulcan. Membership will not be granted to children who have not reached Grade 4 at school.
3. A member may borrow one book at a time only, but when a family of country members is entitled to receive less than 3 books, the librarian may grant one additional book to such family.
4. Books must be returned to the library within 14 days, but in the case of certain books, the librarian may restrict the time to 7 days.
5. The Library Board reserves the right to call in any book at any time.
6. Books may be renewed by personal application for a further period of 14 days; 7-day books cannot be renewed. In exceptional cases the Librarian may accept renewals from country members by telephone.
7. A fine of 2c per day including Sundays and holidays will be charged for each overdue book and no further books can be obtained by the member until the fine is paid.
8. Books should be examined at time of borrowing and defects reported before the borrower leaves the Library.
9. Borrowers must pay for books damaged or lost while charged on their cards.
10. The Librarian does not guarantee to notify borrowers that their books are overdue.
11. All cases of dispute must be referred to the Library Board at a meeting duly called and their decision shall be final.

Your co-operation is asked in making your Library as efficient as possible. Every book kept out an overdue time, every book carelessly soiled or damaged, lessens our ability to serve your neighbor and you.

RINK NOTES

Coaldale—A meeting was held recently in the Hoy Growers' Hall here to discuss the erection and maintenance of a skating rink for this winter. There was a representative gathering of men of the village and district. After considerable discussion as to the best site, the probable cost of materials and water, it was moved and passed that Messrs. Roy Greer, Fred Caloren and Norman Nelson be a committee to select a site and bring estimates of costs and plans for procuring water to a meeting to be held on Friday.

Coleman—The skating rink is fast getting towards completion. The walls and iron trusses are up. The carpenters are busy with the seating accommodations and are making splendid progress. The Women's Institute are preparing for a bazaar to be held in the opera house on Wednesday, November 20. A dance is to be held in the evening. The proceeds go towards the Crystal Skating rink.

LOCAL ITEMS

Mr. Roy Walker was a visitor to Calgary for a few days this week.

Mr. John Love, who has been in a Calgary hospital for some time, returned home on Monday.

Players on the three teams of the School Hockey League are requested to report for practice at the rink on Saturday morning from 10 to 12.

A test of the gas coming from the Community Well at Many Island is reported to contain gasoline. The shareholders in this well are optimistic that they will shortly strike oil.

Fines aggregating $1,300 were gathered in last week through liquor raids effected at Claresholm. The last issue of The Alberta Gazette records the incorporation of "The Lethbridge Arena, Limited." This is the company that has the big new skating rink now under construction.

Candy, home made and artistically boxed, at the Bazaar.

Excellent photos have been made of the new Anglican church in course of construction, together with Foreman Mays and his staff of workmen.

The last few days, which have been the first of anything like winter, have speeded up the hockey talk. The survey of talent available would indicate that Vulcan will be able to frame up a fairly good team, and while an open rink is a handicap to hockey, the boys will make the best of it for a season, encouraged by the almost certainty of a real rink that is coming up.

Since our last issue the local lodges of the I. O. O. F. and A. F. & A. M. have elected officers for the ensuing term, and following the installation ceremonies, which are yet to take place, the list of officers will appear in this paper. Mr. Fred Elves has been elected to the chief office of the Masons, and Mr. Blake McCullough of the Odd Fellows.

"It is a good and safe rule to sojourn in every place as if you meant to spend your life there, never omitting an opportunity of doing a kindness, or speaking a true word, or making a friend."—John Ruskin. This is the sentiment of many of our citizens, and such as we have of it has given us much of the success which we enjoy and which has given Vulcan a wide reputation for its community spirit and enterprise. But there are a few who have yet to adopt the principle before we are perfect.

The new fire truck, the purchase of which was recently authorized by the Council, is being fitted up and splendidly equipped, and in a short time will be ready to run. Besides being arranged to travel by power and carry the chemical tanks and water, there will be a footboard and rail provided for the carrying of a number of firemen. The mechanical devices are being executed by Mr. Tom LeBow, and the truck when completed will certainly be a valuable asset to the town, giving us protection against fire to a much greater degree than heretofore. We do progress.

Useful needlework at the Bazaar.

"The manager of the Opera house should receive just credit and praise through The Advocate for the extra excellence of the picture the other night." This suggestion was directed to The Advocate man by a picture patron who was particularly pleased with "Manslaughter." We readily agree and cheerfully give credit where it was certainly due, and besides the picture mentioned features of like excellence are often offered, and besides, the general run of pictures offered are considerably above the average presented in towns of our size, and Vulcan should appreciate this fact.

The fire bell rang on Saturday night about ten-thirty, and the citizens who responded quickly were directed to the home of Mr. George Eamori. The smoke pipes from the furnace were all red hot, and fire was issuing from the chimney; the house was filled with smoke, and the situation was certainly dangerous. However, the quick and careful use of the fire-fighting apparatus prevented any considerable damage, with the good result that the incident might direct more general attention to the essays on "Fire Prevention" which have recently appeared in The Advocate, and others that are yet to appear.

Mr. A. J. McInnis, travelling representative of the Ford Motor Co., was a visitor in Vulcan this week for a couple of days. He became interested in the fire truck that was being rigged up in Vulcan, and mentioned the publicity which his firm as well as our town secured through the appearance of the picture in the papers of the Ford trucks and Mr. Jennejohn's motor boat. The Ford company are among the greatest of American advertisers and their men readily recognize real publicity, and Mr. McInnis took with him a few copies of The Advocate which carried the pictures of the now famous big team and record load of grain.

Professor Tory, in a letter to Mr. D. H. Galbraith, M.L.A., in a paragraph which we print below, gives information of interest to all who will appreciate the success and high standing of one of our provincial institutions: "I know you will be interested in the fact that we have just today received a letter from the American Medical Association, whose secretary has been at work classifying the Medical Colleges of the United States and Canada, rating our Medical School in Class A. In the letter appears the following: 'I give me great pleasure to inform you that at the business meeting of the council on Medical education and hospitals last week, it was voted that the University of Alberta Faculty of Medicine be granted a rating in Class A. The high ideals under which you have thus far developed your medical school give ample assurance that in its further development these ideals will still prevail.'"

Dolls, with beautiful hand sewn dresses, at Bazaar.

The regular meeting of the Vulcan Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Robbie on December 1st. A large number of the members were present and much important business received attention. After the meeting tea was served and much enjoyed by all. Mrs. Robbie, Mrs. Howes and Mrs. Martin were joint hostesses.

Monday night was the first night at the skating rink, and it was a great night for the throng of young and old that attended. The ice was fine for a start. The kiddies were allowed on for a while on Saturday and one hundred and forty-two of them disported themselves in delightful manner. Manager Robbie promises several races and stunts that will make the skating season interesting.

There was a meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the Union church, at the home of Mrs. G. Dickinson, on Thursday last. It was the wind-up for the year, and a review of the work and accomplishments of the society prove a most successful year. Following other important business, the election of officers for the ensuing term resulted in the selection of Mrs. W. H. Dickinson, as president; Mrs. G. M. Carson, vice-president; Mrs. T. B. LeBow, secretary; Mrs. F. J. Stewart, treasurer.

The Advocate has been many times complimented on the photos and write-up which we printed of the big team and record load of grain, and the demand for two hundred extra copies of our last issue, has made us proud of our enterprise. We appreciate the fact that our efforts are appreciated, and are persuaded to continue the policy of "the best we can do for Vulcan." Words of praise also came from afar. Mr. E. W. Stacey, manager of the Beaver (Alberta) Lumber Limited of Medicine Hat, writing under date of December 4, as follows: "We have noted your articles and pictures of 'Hauling Grain to Vulcan,' by Mr. Moorehouse. We feel sure that it will interest some other old timers in the west, in addition to ourselves, and we would like you to send us say half a dozen copies of your issue dated November 29th, and your account for same. Allow us to take this opportunity of complimenting you on your paper, which in our opinion, is one of the best in Southern Alberta."

The committee appointed at the recent Red Cross meeting to prosecute the campaign for Red Cross membership in Vulcan and vicinity, convened on Tuesday night, and made every arrangement for the work, and possibly before this is read you will have been canvassed, and it is to be hoped that there will be a ready and generous response in support of an institution and a work that is not subject to question. For the purpose of the canvass the town has been divided into four sections, and each will be covered by two members of the committee, which has been increased by the addition of Miss Tingle, who, be it noted here, is the only Red Cross nurse who was in the service during the war and now resident here, and she will work with Mrs. Harry Winger, while W. E. Butchart and D. W. Allen, R. Elves and F. J. Stewart, and Chas. Colwell and Harry Nelson will be the other teams. When the drive has been completed there will be a meeting of the members who have been secured, and they will determine as to the organization and operation of a branch in Vulcan.

Each citizen can make news columns of this paper more interesting by sending in news items regarding trips, social events, successes of former residents in other places, marriages of local people or their relatives, bereavements of local families or deaths in other places of former residents.

Forty-two thousand new auto license plates for the province of Alberta have been ordered for 1923. These will be made with white figures on a blue background. Nearly 40,000 auto licenses were issued during the present year, according to the Department of Public Works.

Last minute Christmas gifts at the Bazaar.

An event that has not been reported before in these columns was a party at the manse some time ago, given as a farewell to Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Wilson. Mr. Wilson has long been connected with the choir and Sunday school of the Union church, members of which joined in the making of a gift to Mr. Wilson, the address and presentation being made by Mr. W. E. Butchart.

The result of the Picariello trial, giving the verdict and sentence, was received by D. C. Jones by radio on Saturday, and a minute later was flashed on the screen at the picture house by Rus. Robson. Radio and moving pictures make a great combination for speedy dissemination of news, and Vulcan has both, and both operated by enterprising citizens who are always generously treating us with the methods which they possess.

On this page we print a picture of Mr. John W. Lucas, of Cayley, who has added laurels to Canada and credit to himself at the International Livestock Show in Chicago. It was announced on Saturday that he had won the first prize in the rye department of the hay and grain show. Mr. Lucas has several times before in a like way won a name and fame for himself and Cayley, and Cayley is not so very far from Vulcan.

Interest was revived in a recent local event on Monday night when it was announced that Otis Dortch had gone north on the train through Vulcan. It proved to be true, and later it was learned that he was on the way to Ponoka. In an interview Monday night, Mr. Short said that Dortch was not sent to the asylum because of insanity, but simply for the purpose of ascertaining his true state of mind, and securing a complete report of his condition for reference at his trial. The two brothers, Otis and Othello, will appear before a judge and jury in the criminal section of the supreme court at Calgary, January 15, on a joint charge of murder.

SENTENCED TO DEATH

The verdict of the jury in connection with the cold-blooded murder of Constable Lawson, by Emil Picariello and Florene Lasandro, was received with satisfaction by the people of this province, not with a vindictive spirit, but with complete satisfaction that law and justice cannot be outraged in this land with impunity by individuals who think they are free to act as they please. The jury after hearing the evidence of witnesses and listening to the judges charge did not take long to give their verdict, for there was no doubt of guilt on the part of the two accused. When the verdict of "guilty" was announced by the foreman of the jury His Lordship, Justice Walsh, pronounced sentence of death by hanging on the 21st day of February, 1923.

CANADA CALLS HER OWN

Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador to the United States, put his finger upon a vital problem the other day at St. Catharines, when he said that one of Canada's greatest tasks was to hold within her own borders her native sons. Just how serious this problem is may be gleaned from information of The Veteran, which shows that the increase in population during the past ten years was approximately one-quarter of a million less than the number of emigrants who came to our shores during that period. More than one million people, many of them native born, must have left Canada between 1911 and 1921, to bring about the situation portrayed by the last census.

Speaking to young students, the value of Sir Auckland Geddes' address could not be over-estimated. He impressed upon them their duty in the rehabilitation of Canada and the Empire, called to their minds the great traditions established by the citizens of the Dominion during the Great War, and pointed to the unequalled opportunities which Canada as a nation offered to them if they remained constant and loyal.

Several million dollars are devoted yearly towards bringing in new citizens, but we can find little or no record of money being spent to retain those already within our borders. Young men are attracted to the United States principally because of the constantly recurring stories of fortune and fame to be found there. They forget that 110,000,000 people are striving towards the same object, in a country whose surface area is considerably smaller than that of Canada. They forget that the development of Canada in the years to come, opening new opportunities to those who seek advancement, cannot be paralleled in the United States, for the simple reason that that country is now in a condition which might be described as consolidation, rather than expansion.

A new function might well be added to the work of the Department of Immigration and Colonization—that of keeping Canadians, natural born and naturalized, advised as to the reasons why Canada is as well worth living for as it was fighting for.—The Veteran.

The only way the railway freight rates can be lowered in America is for a reduction in the wages paid to railway employees, is the opinion of railway economists, who declare that the railways have reached the limit of possibility in economy and skimping of maintenance.

The people of this province have a big tax confronting them, but as people we must realize that we have increased burdens to bear, on account of social legislation passed in recent years, for increased services, for more money for schools, etc., etc. Truly we are over governed and legislated to such an extent that the burden is becoming well-nigh unbearable.

NOT WANTED

Dismissing entirely from the proposal of the Toronto Globe that the Dominion government should bring 25,000 to 50,000 Armenians refugees to Canada to settle on the land, the Edmonton Bulletin, Liberal, says there will be a certain amount of sympathy with the suggestion on religious and humanitarian grounds but that this country should learn from past experience. For very similar reasons the Doukhobors were welcomed to Canada, says the Bulletin, and they have not been satisfactory settlers. It continues: "The Armenians are not Doukhobors, but like them they look better at a distance. They are entitled to the full measure of that protection which Canadians lie in 'France to secure for them and all other peoples—in their own country. It is the business of the allied governments to see that they get that protection, and of the Canadian government to insist that the allies shall do so. But as for bringing a few thousand of them to settle in the Dominion, that would neither settle the Armenian question, nor make for satisfactory conditions in Canada. Certainly if anything of the kind is to be done the colony should be planted somewhere around Toronto. The west has all the freak colonies it wants, all it feels called upon to accommodate and all it intends to stand for."

A certain farmer not very far from Cayley has been advised to pay more attention to clothing and comfort of his children or there will be something doing in a short time.

British Columbia is in the happy position that it may expect to recover more rapidly than any other province of the Dominion. Last year's actual revenue was $18,882,391.

It has been stated that over one hundred schools will close throughout the province in December, and not open during 1923 owing to the inability of people to pay their taxes. And yet we enact legislation in our province that takes away a revenue of many million dollars per year. Can we afford to do so?

We do not think that a man, under present conditions in the country, can make a sufficient contribution to the national wealth in a 44-hour week. To lift the country to the plane of prosperity it should enjoy requires the work of many hands, working through many hours. If each of us would do a little more, rather than a little less, general conditions would soon reflect it.—Collingwood Bulletin.

The need of standardization for Alberta coal for outside markets, and the need of education of people in other provinces of the Dominion on the quality and value of Alberta coal, were emphasized at a conference held in Edmonton Board of Trade rooms the past week at which Premier Greenfield, President Freeze of the Calgary Board of Trade, H. Stutchbury, trade commissioner, A. W. Chard, freight supervisor, of the provincial government and members of the Edmonton Board were present.

"This Freedom," the season's novel, in which is portrayed a tragic ending of the family of a woman who chose a career, received considerable attention in the last issue of the Literary Digest. From over two hundred replies received from leading women who had adopted a career the majority of them were emphatic in their statement that a woman could marry, raise children and adopt a career at the same time. In their replies all these women mentioned the welfare of their children and only one or two that of their husbands. Perhaps if the latter would speak they could tell some interesting home truths, adds the editor of the Petrolia Topic Advertiser.

The Financial Post published an interesting article from a man who has had extensive experience with immigration and settlements efforts, both in Eastern and Western Canada, who says Canada must build up industries if she would retain her people. He makes the point that while Canada has been making strenuous efforts to put immigrants on the land in the west she has been losing her people to the industrial communities of the Eastern States. The writer argues for the upbuilding of Canadian industries and the industrial education of our people, so that they may be retained to Canada instead of going to the United States.

The Presbyterian Synod of Manitoba recently expressed the opinion that the low price of grain was not due entirely to natural causes such as supply and demand but partly to the manipulation of the market by grain brokers. We always did think so but it is well to get it from an authoritative source.

A Professor of social economics in a Chicago University gave an address before the Empire Club, Toronto, one day last week, and the Star quotes this gem among his pithy sayings: "You never will have any industrial peace and you ought not to have any industrial peace as long as you make men work twelve hours a day, seven days in the week." But it might be worse if an attempt should be made to make men work twenty-five hours a day eight days a week. We mention this merely to show that we can make quite as sapient observations as any professor in social economics.

It is becoming increasingly clear that farming must some way get on to a business basis. Men cannot be expected to risk capital and work hard without making more than a mere living.

British Columbia on its return of revenue and expenditure has a surplus of $818,101 for the first six months of the current year, according to a statement presented to the legislature by Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance. The revenue for the province for the last half year was $9,066,952, and the expenditure $9,087,850.

The vigorous prosecution of offenders under The Liquor Act continues. Hildon, of the A.P.P. at Clarendon, secured fines amounting to $1,300 in the past week or two in the Pincher Creek, Barons and Staveley districts. Several hotel keepers and a druggist figuring heavily in the fines imposed. Officials of the Alberta Provincial Police also made a large seizure of 140 cases of liquor at Macleod. Near Olds recently, officials of the Alberta Provincial Police, co-operating with officials of the Inland Revenue Department, who have charge of prosecution of stills, prosecuted three farmers with the result that heavy fines were imposed.

CANADIAN WHEAT

Figures for September and October show that 30,901,473 bushels of Canadian wheat went to Great Britain and 2,031,344 bushels to other countries through American ports, as against 16,760,055 bushels to Great Britain and 3,728,903 bushels to other countries during the same months a year ago. During October this year, five times as much Canadian wheat went to Great Britain through American ports as went through Canadian, and these figures hold good for shipments during the months of September and October. Large as these figures are, they do not anything like equal those of shipments of American grain that passed through the port of Montreal last summer.

NATURAL RESOURCES

The Alberta Cabinet has endorsed the attitude of Premier Greenfield and Attorney-General Brownlee in refusing the offer made by the Dominion Government at the recent conference at Ottawa on the natural resources. This offer was that the natural resources be returned, with a continuance of the yearly cash subsidy for three years. The Alberta government adheres to its proposal that the cash subsidy be discontinued on the return of the resources to the province but that the Dominion compensate Alberta for resources alienated for federal purposes. Though the most recent Dominion offer has been declined, the way is still open for further negotiations.

Premier Greenfield's statement in the matter is as follows:

"Negotiations for the turning over by the Dominion government to the province of Alberta of the natural resources still unalienated were resumed at Ottawa recently, on the invitation of the prime minister, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, following upon a request by the government of this province that negotiations be re-opened.

The position at the opening of negotiations last April was that the provincial government had received a communication from the Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, making two suggestions to the governments of the prairie provinces as a basis of discussion and possible settlement: (1) The return of the unalienated resources by the Dominion to the province without compensation for resources already alienated. Present subsidy received from Dominion in lieu of lands to be discontinued. (2) An accounting between Dominion and the provinces from the beginning by an independent tribunal, crediting the provinces with all monies received and charging provinces with all outlay by the Dominion, directly or indirectly, in relation to the management of the resources. Findings of the tribunal to be final. Present subsidy in lieu of lands to be discontinued.

These suggestions were fully discussed at the conference in Ottawa in April last, neither proposal being considered a satisfactory basis of settlement by the representatives of this province.

It becoming evident in the development of negotiations that there was small probability of arriving at a uniform basis of settlement acceptable to all three prairie provinces, it was agreed by the representatives of the governments of the western provinces that any of the three governments be at liberty to negotiate separately for a settlement with the Dominion.

Negotiations for settlement on behalf of the province of Alberta alone were then opened by the representatives of this province, suggesting as a basis of settlement, in an effort to get away from the long and costly process of an accounting and arbitration, the return of the remaining resources to the province; the present subsidy to be waived on condition that compensation be given for resources alienated from the province of Alberta for purely federal purposes, claim principally being made for compensation for 6,400,000 acres of Alberta lands alienated just prior to the formation of the province for subsidizing the construction of railways outside the province of Alberta; these lands to be capitalized at a figure to be agreed upon and the amount paid to the province over a term of years.

Some progress was made along these lines in April last, but on the resumption of negotiations at the recent conference, this suggested basis of settlement did not find favor with the Dominion government, and as a result of the negotiations just closed a uniform offer of settlement was made by the Dominion government to all three prairie governments as follows: The return by the Dominion to the province of remaining resources, plus payment of present subsidy for a term of three years; any revenue outstanding on Alberta resources to accrue to the province.

The representatives of the province of Alberta, however, could not see their way to accept the offer until after consultation with their colleagues. The offer has now been fully considered by the government, and the position taken by the representatives of the province at the conference was endorsed.

The conference at least led to a clearer understanding of the whole question by both sides, and the door is still open for further negotiations. The government of this province still feels that the claim put forward at the conference in April last, that the province of Alberta is justly and fairly entitled to compensation for resources is sound.

WORLD'S WHEAT PRIZE

Canada again ran away with most of the honors in the hay and grain show at Chicago in the divisions so far judged as we write this article. In region one oats, an important class, Canada took of the first 15 places. The contest was won by J. W. Biglands, of Lacombe, and the second by John Lucas of Cayley. In the field peas class Alberta won four out of five places and in this John Lucas won fourth place. Mr. Meldrum, of Raymond, was second place for the world's wheat prize, R. O. Wyer of Saskatchewan carried off first honors for hard red spring wheat.

Last minute Christmas gifts at the Bazaar.

FORESTRY MATTERS

Q.—Where can I secure a plan that will aid me in the laying out of the grounds around my prairie home?

A.—By writing to the Chief of Tree-Planting Division, Dominion Forest Nursery Station, Indian Head, Sask. for a copy of their booklet "Tree Planting on the Prairies". This book contains two suggestions, either one of which can be used to advantage.

Q.—I am contemplating transplanting some native spruce from the woods to my home in town. What size plants should I use and how should I select them?

A.—Always secure small seedlings in preference to larger trees. From twelve to eighteen inches high will prove far more satisfactory than larger trees and are much more easily handled. Do not expose roots to sun or wind during transportation. Select plants growing in the open and not from sheltered spots, so that the change from the woods to the future planting place may not be too great.

Q.—What are the guiding principles in formulating a plan of the home grounds?

A.—1. Make convenience your first consideration in arranging the farm buildings and grounds. 2. Establish a shelter belt to protect the home and stock against the prevailing winds. 3. Allow sufficient room between the buildings and the shelter belt for expansion. Remember trees are permanent and not easily moved. 4. Allow space for lawns and ornamental planting. 5. Allow for the extension of the plantation for woodlot purposes.

AUTO FATALITIES

Sir Thomas White, ex-minister of finance, writes to the Toronto Telegram regarding the number of auto fatalities in part as follows:

"I am appalled at the toll of human life which is taken almost daily in this city by the auto. There is scarcely a morning that the newspaper does not bring us the news of a tragedy in which some little child is crushed to death, painfully injured or maimed for life by a swiftly-driven motor car. "The killing goes on increasingly and will continue to do so until the question of motor traffic in this province is fairly faced and regulations adopted and enforced which will put an end to the murder of the innocent. "There is a law against the carrying of revolvers, but all the revolvers do not do a tithe of the harm that is done by the auto under our present senseless system of ineffectual regulations."

ALBERTA WINNERS

Alberta cattle exhibited at the Royal Show at Toronto during the past week received a high standing in the prize list, doing even much better than last year. The steer exhibited from the Provincial Government Farm at Olds stood second in the shorthorn class, and the university string of animals did very well. The following is a list of the winners:

Shorthorns, senior yearling steers: J. Walters, Cliver, third; Bertram Ralphs, Airdrie, fourth. Herefords: senior yearling: Frank Collicutt, Crossfield, second. Shorthorns, junior yearling: J. G. Clark, Irma, first and champion.

The steer exhibited by the Olds school of agriculture, was second in this class. Charles Yule, of Carstairs, was fourth. Herefords, junior yearling: Kleskun Ranch, first; Simon Downie, Carstairs, second; S. M. Mace, High River, fourth. Angus, junior yearling: Juggins Bros. Lloydminster, third. Shorthorns, senior calves: William Sharpe, Lacombe, second. Herefords, senior calves: University of Alberta, second; F. D. Blair, Red Deer, third. Angus calves: C. H. Richardson, Bowden, second.

TREE PLANTING

Q. What is a "Snow Trap" and what is it used for?

A. A snow trap is a narrow strip of trees or a hedge planted from three to four rods out from the main shelter belt. Its function is to break the force of the drifting snow and prevent it from lodging in the centre of the shelter belt where it would be liable to break down the tops of the small trees. The land between the snow-trap and shelter belt need not be wasted, but can be used splendidly for a garden or root ground.

Q. On what sides of the buildings should shelter belts be first established?

A. In every locality there is generally some one direction or perhaps two directions, from which the severest storms approach. It is on these sides of the buildings that the shelter belts should be established first.

Q. The jack rabbits eat the tops off my ash and are greatly retarding the growth of these trees and in some cases killing them outright. How can I get rid of this pest?

A. Would strongly urge that a little more use be made of the shot gun and organized hunts arranged as was done to kill off the coyotes.

Q. Where can I secure some evergreens for ornamental planting?

A. From your nearest Canadian Nursery where the stock is home grown. Beware of imported seedlings.

Jay Todd, proprietor of the Queen hatchery at Seattle, purchased five White Leghorn hens for $2,000. Some of our local "chickens" should note this fact and go south west from here.

CATTLE FEEDING

Millions of bushels of Alberta grain are annually shovelled into snow banks. Exposure and discomfort cut away the finish that good feed is being used to put on. It is probably true that in the "Sunny Province" cattle require less close housing than in latitudes of winter rain, wet snow, blizzards and raw chilling winds, but to deprive them of any shelter at all except a bluff, a straw stack or the lee side of a stable, as not a few settlers do with their store stock and some even with fattening steers, is presuming too much upon the clemency of the North Temperate Zone. A visit to the Edmonton or Calgary stock yards supplies pathetic evidence of the result.

In the fall of 1920 the Dominion Experimental Sub-Station at Beaverlodge, four hundred and twenty miles north of the forty-ninth parallel of latitude, erected a stave silo, filling it with sunflowers, oats and barley in layers. Ten yearling steers and fifteen grade Hereford calves were housed in a pole-and-straw shed wide open to the south and wind-tight on three sides. On a mere store-cattle ration of silage and straw, with some inferior hay for the calves, supplemented by a pound of meal per head for the yearlings and two pounds for the calves, the former registered, during a hundred-day mid-winter period an average gain of two-thirds of a pound a day and the calves three-fifths. The yearlings were de-horned on the day of the first weighing and thereafter they all used the shed freely. The drinking water was tempered by a tank heater.

Summed in a fenced pasture, the cattle gained rapidly until September, but weights taken incline us to believe that they made little net gain between that time and December, although they were faring better than the general run of cattle in the neighborhood, whose owners, deceived by complaisant hopes and long coats of standing hair, fondly imagined their cattle were holding their own on ice water and marsh grass, with snow flakes for blankets and moon beams for shelter.

On December 9th, 1921, ten two-year-olds and fourteen yearlings were divided into four lots for a silage experiment, half of them receiving silage supplemented by green-feed (oat sheaves) and the other half green-feed only. During the last three weeks a feed of hay per day was introduced all round. A very small meal ration of oat and barley chop was fed after the first thirty-eight days. Averaged over the whole feeding period it worked out to only three pounds per head for the older cattle and two and one-fifth pounds for the yearlings. Twice a day the cattle had access to water usually tempered with a tank heater. Their shed was not drafty, they were quietly handled and usually able to lie down in comfort.

After a twenty-eight-mile trip to the nearest station and an eighty-five hour trip over a pioneer railroad, with but one unloading, these cattle arrived in Edmonton with enough finish to top the market handily, the yearlings bringing $6.15 and the two-year olds $6.45 when the top price for anything else was $6.00.

Twelve of these yearlings and five of the two-year-olds, representing pretty nearly an average of both ages, were taken by the Swift Canadian Company, Edmonton, to whom, and to Mr. N. Curtis, Dominion Markets representative, we are indebted for the dressing percentages which were as follows, calculated on a warm basis:

3 Yearling steers 55.84%

9 Yearling Heifers 55.95%

The secret of the result was comfort.

BIG ELEVATOR CAPACITY

With the construction of two new elevators during the coming year, storage capacity at the head of the lakes will be brought up to 61,000,000 bushels for the 1923 season.

W. R. Bawlf, president of the N. Bawlf Grain Co., announced at Winnipeg, recently, that his company will erect a terminal elevator with a storage capacity of 1,500,000 bushels at Port Arthur. The James Stewart Grain Co. also announced recently that they would build a large elevator within the next year.

"Would Wake Up Screaming"

"The Least Sudden Noise or Loud Talking Would Startle Him."

"Up to the age of eight, my boy was a strong healthy lad, full of life and energy. While playing 'leap frog' one day with some boys of his own age, and while in a stooped position, a big boy jumped on his back and in falling my boy caught his foot in an iron grating and dislocated his hip. The pain was so great that he fainted and the other boys were so frightened they ran away. For hours he suffered terrible pain and when found and brought home was very weak, with his thigh and leg swollen twice its size. The doctor set the bone but the pain and exposure were too much for the poor boy and he became unconscious. A high fever set in and for weeks he lay between life and death raving for hours at a stretch. One day he opened his eyes and murmured, 'Mother, but this is the only word he could utter he was so weak, but I knew the worst was over. He got stronger but for months was in a nervous condition. The least sudden noise or loud talking would startle him and he would begin trembling. He was quite lame and the swelling still remained. The doctor gave him a tonic and told me to rub the leg with olive oil. This reduced the swelling and took away the lameness, but the nervousness remained. The poor child would waken in the night screaming at the top of his voice. The doctor gave him several different tonics but they were no use. I found a circular about Carnol and it seemed so different from other tonics I had heard of that I thought I would get a bottle. Three bottles were all that was needed to make my boy like his own self again. It is hard to convince my friends that the change in him now is entirely due to Carnol. Of course I still have to watch him and give him Carnol occasionally but I know that he will soon be as strong again as ever he was."

Mrs. P., Montreal

Carnol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money.

A WONDERFUL CURE

New York papers of December 6 make record of what is believed to be the first case of diabetic coma to be successfully arrested in the annals of medicine in that city, the discovery being made by Dr. Collip of the University of Alberta and Dr. Banting of Toronto. The insulin treatment taken from the pancreas of a pig, is undoubtedly one of the greatest scientific contributions of modern times is the report that comes from New York.

A child in a state of diabetic coma, practically at death's door has been brought back to life at the University of Alberta. This wonderful recovery was made possible through the use of insulin serum manufactured in the University of Alberta, laboratory, by Dr. J. B. Collip, professor of biochemistry at the provincial institution.

Some two weeks ago a girl, eight years old, was brought to the university hospital from her home near High River in Southern Alberta. When she arrived she was in a state of diabetic coma, a condition from which, so far as is known, there has never been a recovery.

This information was secured from Dr. H. M. Tory, president of the university, following the receipt of a dispatch from New York, which recorded what was believed to have been the first case of diabetic coma to be successfully treated in the annals of medicine in that city. The Edmonton cure apparently pre-dates that recorded in the dispatch from New York City.

President Tory of the University of Alberta, when interviewed by The Herald representative, explained that Dr. Collip last year was given one year's leave of absence to take up research work, in conjunction with Doctors F. G. Banting, C. F. Best and McLeod, at the University of Toronto on the insulin serum. These professional men carried on their experiments and were successful in isolating the insulin.

Dr. Collip returned to the University of Alberta and in the provincial laboratory has continued his research work along this line in collaboration with Dr. Heber Jamieson, of this city. A number of diabetic cases have been under observation in the university hospital. Dr. Heber Jamieson doing the diagnosis and Prof. Collip the experimental work.

In speaking of the treatment of the child in question, Dr. Tory said: "Some two weeks ago a child eight years old was brought from Southern Alberta. Her home is at High River. When she arrived here she was in a state of coma and in a condition from which, as far as we know, there has never been a case reported of the patient coming back to life again. The insulin used was manufactured in the University of Alberta laboratory by Dr. J. B. Collip. In a short time the child was brought back to a normal blood condition. The treatment was given by Dr. Heber Jamieson and Dr. Collip. The child is now sitting up in the hospital and is being detained only for the purpose of watching developments. The authorities have reason to believe that a permanent cure has been effected. They are also treating about half a dozen other cases in connection with the university hospital, but only a limited number of cases can be handled.

The University of Alberta is the only institution outside of Toronto, as far as is known, where this work is being done.

ENLARGE BIG LAKE

The Dominion government survey party under chief N. M. Sutherland, about twenty strong and camped near the bridge on the Highwood, are nearing the end of their season's work. Starting in the Champion district about May 1st they plane-tabled, approximately, one hundred thousand acres there. They covered several thousand acres at Brant and Ensign and are now working on the last of a block of some forty thousand acres in the High River and Blackie districts.

It is proposed to secure water for the scheme from the overflow of the Highwood river, the intake being some distance up the stream. The main ditch would cross the ridge, east of High River, just to the north of the aerodrome and would supply a large tract of land east of the ridge. Big Lake, south west of Blackie, would be used as a reservoir, and the water would be raised approximately ten feet, thus ensuring a supply of water for the districts lying around Brant, Ensign, Kirkcaldy and Champion. The raising of the lake would mean the flooding of considerable acreage, but would be necessary in order to secure an adequate supply of moisture, as it would be mainly the flood waters that could be used on account of prior claims on the stream in question. The scheme is quite possible and there are no especially difficult engineering problems to contend with. But if only the Champion district came under the scheme the cost per acre for irrigation would be much greater than if the land in this district could be included also. The greater part of the land to come under the required elevation in this district is to the north, north-west and north-east of the lake, extending to the ridge before mentioned, to the edge of Mazeppa and Blackie and a few miles to the east of Blackie. There is also a smaller tract to the east of the Lake and one to the west also.

Several men were added to the party last week in order to take advantage of the fine weather and to hurry the work to completion. Several thousand acres remain to be covered but everything will be finished if the weather does not get severe enough to prevent instrument work.

Miss Marie Lloyd, the famous music hall comedienne, who earned more than two million dollars during her life, gave away so much of it to needy friends and acquaintances that her estate, when the charges are liquidated, will probably not yield more than $5,000, if as much. She earned for years from $1,000 to $2,500 a week, but was so generous that nearly all of her estate is mortgaged.

The conference of city mayors and officials on the new City Act drafted for discussion, has been postponed until December 13. The act drafted by the legal officials of the government does not embody any government policy in the matter, but is merely the basis of discussion.

Miss Robinson, teacher at Harvey school, visited Mayview friends last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thompson's little daughter, who was taken from here to Edmonton for treatment, has taken a change for the better, and may be home for Christmas. She is a grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. William Hay. Dr. Carson surely deserves credit in this case, for the little girl had been given up by other doctors.

The party who took the Red Cross gasoline lamp will please come through with it or their name will be exposed.

Miss Ella Hartley, of Calgary, visited Red Cross friends over the week end.

Our California weather has changed but the children of the district are glad, for it seems to bring Santa Claus a little closer.

What might have proven a very serious accident occurred last week at the home of Robert Hay. When ready to leave for Highland school with the children the automobile took fire. The quick presence of mind of Mr. Hay saved the situation. The car was somewhat damaged.

A letter has been received from Rev. and Mrs. Boyd, of Edmonton. Mrs. Boyd was teacher at Red Cross school for a number of years and is well known here. We are glad to report both in best of health. Mrs. B. states that their baby girl is just now wearing her first pair of shoes.

Mr. Grundy left on Friday for Utah to attend the golden wedding of his parents.

Much credit is due Miss Tilt for the very successful box social and dance held at Highland school last Friday night. The net proceeds were $23.85, which amount will be expended in providing a Christmas tree for the children, to be held on December 22.

The regular reporter for Red Cross is not responsible for a number of items which have appeared lately in the Red Cross news, and the editor has promised that this will not occur again.

AGRICULTURAL SCHOOLS

Attendance at the four agricultural schools for the 1922-23 term now totals 320. There are 146 pupils in attendance at Olds school, 70 in attendance at Claresholm, 53 at Raymond and 51 at Vermilion. Last year in six schools there was an attendance of 331, so that the department is educating almost as many pupils in four schools this term as in six schools last term.

Christmas Cards, with just the greeting that you desire and your own name printed on them, will be just the thing for your circle of friends. Cards now in stock at The Advocate.

INSTITUTE BAZAAR

The Golden Rule Institute held a most successful supper, bazaar, and dance on Friday evening, December 1, at the Boyne School. An appreciative capacity crowd filled the room.

Mrs. John Hutton was chairman for the music for dancing, which was very graciously donated by different ones.

The bazaar was in charge of Mrs. A. J. Kennedy with the following members in charge of different booths, Fancy work, Miss O'dele Larson; the practical booth, aprons, dresses, caps, bags, Mrs. Parsons; miscellaneous and pantry shelf, Mrs. Steve Forrester and Mrs. George Thompson; grab box, Mrs. Ruth Keller; doll booth, Mrs. Joe Glenn. A rug was raffled, the lucky number 106, being held by Mr. Roy Ferguson, Vulcan. Mr. Joe Glenn drew the lucky number 82 for the doll. The Pierott, a unique feature of the evening dispensed fun and auctioned the doll house donated by Mr. Walter Mays, and the remaining articles unsold in the booths. Following this the ice-cream counter, in charge of Mrs. Allen Fisher, became the center of attraction, after which dancing claimed the evening.

Miss Evall, teacher of the Fireguard school, contributed some very clever readings and Miss Northfield, teacher of the Boyne school sang.

It is gratifying to know the splendid sum of $150.25 was realized. The chairmen are to be congratulated on their effort and the manner in which everything was carried out and the conveners and Institute wish to acknowledge with warmest gratitude the contribution, assistance, good wishes and hearty co-operation extended by each and every one toward the success of the affair. It was a success to the satisfaction of all who participated in the preparations and those who took part in it.

GREAT WAR VETERANS

The Provincial Command Great War Veterans' Association has called a conference of returned men in Calgary for December 19 and 20, at which representatives of returned men in every district of the province will be present. This is not a G.W.V.A. convention, but a conference of returned men whether they be members of the G.W.V.A. or not. The conference will deal with the problems affecting the returned men and especially those affecting the disabled, the widows and dependents. It is expected that about two hundred and fifty delegates will be present at this reunion. Any returned man interested in the Veteran problems will be made welcome and those desiring to attend should communicate with the Provincial Command G.W.V.A., 208, Oddfellows' Bldg., Calgary.

THINGS TO FORGET

Forget the slander you have heard; forget the hasty unkind word; forget the quarrel and the cause—forget the whole affair, because forgetting is the only way. Forget the storms of yesterday; forget the chap whose sour face forgets to smile in any place; forget the trials you have had; forget the weather if it's bad; forget the "knocker"—he's a freak—forget him seven days a week; forget who has not played game (you yourself may be to blame); forget the plumber's awful charge; forget your income tax is large; forget the coal man and his ways; forget the rain in winter days; forget, wherever you may roam, forget the guy who wrote this poem—forget that he, in social bliss, forgot himself when he wrote this. Forget your woes, forget your ills, BUT DON'T FORGET TO PAY YOUR SUBSCRIPTION.

ALFALFA $27 PER BUSHEL

Pat Garrow, of the Sutherland colony, who planted one acre of registered Grim alfalfa in connection with the school fair competition, last year has just finished threshing a yield of 10 bushels of clean seed, for which he will receive $27 per bushel. Pat, a 12-year-old boy, has taken care of this acre.

SCHOOL POPULATION

Alberta stands rather well in respect to school population, when compared with some other countries. In 1920 the school population in the schools of the province equalled one-fourth of the population. In the United States in the same year, the school population represented only one-fifth of the population.

Trade returns recently published show why the Canadian dollar passes at par or better in the United States. For the year ending October 31, 1922 Canadians bought $115,272,742 less from the United States than they did in the year ending October 31st, 1921, and $380,037,018 less than for the year ending October 31st, 1920.

For the first time in the history of the co-operative poultry marketing service, a carload of live poultry was shipped out of Alberta by the marketing service of the provincial government with the co-operation of the Dominion Poultry officials. The car was shipped to Montreal, and if the experiment is a success other shipments may be made to the eastern market.

Kinacrine Review: Outside of Sir Henry Thornton there is not a man on the new directorate of the Canadian National Railways who ever had in his life before the remotest connection with a railway. The promise that the Grand Trunk would be unified with the Canadian National Railways has been broken. This feature of the act of 1919 has not been called into effect. The government has appointed the same men whom they put on the Canadian National directorate to be Grand Trunk directors, but they have not placed the Grand Trunk railway under the management of the Canadian National directorate, as such, as provided by section 11 of the Act of 1919. The result is that the railways are still continuing to be run as separate systems. They have their separate executives absolutely distinct. This is in direct, indeed, bazing, violation of Mr. Kennedy's promise of April 11th last. This breach of faith on the part of the government means the loss of millions annually by the separate management of these two systems. It demonstrates how essentially right were those who declared the purpose of the present government inimical as its leading members are to national railways and government ownership in every form was to see that the worst possible showing was made by the system; that the people should be burdened to the heaviest extent by its deficits and disgusted by its burdensome control and thus brought to a state of mind where they would support the alienation of the National Railways into private hands.

Railway News

Montreal.—Automobile accidents are still continuing at railway crossings despite all the efforts of the railways to prevent them. In one instance at Holland Centre, Ontario, an automobile drove up and stopped on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The driver thought that an approaching train would take another passing track. The driver, realizing his mistake, tried to get his car out of the way of the train. But his car was stalled. The engine was unable to stop the train, with the result that the automobile was smashed and three occupants of the car were injured.

At a crossing on Aymer Road, near Hull, Quebec, an automobile ran into a Canadian Pacific train. The driver was going too fast to stop his automobile when he saw the train. Two occupants of the automobile were injured.

A motor accident with all the thrills of a movie stunt occurred at the corner of Yonge and King streets, Toronto, when an automobile charged into one of the King street windows of the Canadian Pacific Building, making a report that sounded as though the gas tank had exploded.

The car, according to the police, was coming north on Yonge street. The signals were against the car, which in its flight grazed a Belt Line car going east on King street. It continued to swerve right across the pavement into the plate glass front of the imposing C. P. R. office building. Here, with a loud bang, fire from the engine, the car suddenly plunged its front wheels through the quarter-inch plate-glass window. Being up against an immovable obstacle it naturally came to a standstill.

No one was hurt. The fender of the car was badly smashed up, the right front tire torn off and the rear wheel badly damaged. The window was broken right across the whole twelve feet or so, and to a height of about six feet in one point. The driver admitted that he was nervous at the time; he hadn't the slightest idea of what was happening.

What's the matter with the gas pressure? That's what every gas used is asking every time the mercury dips below zero.

Honors have again come to Nick Taitenger, a champion seed grain grower of Claresholm, Alberta. Word has been received at Claresholm that Mr. Taitenger has won first with his exhibit of seed wheat at the Royal Show at Toronto.

Frank Hogg, of the King Edward hotel, Pincher Creek, was last week fined $300 and costs for selling liquors, and John Hall, of the Arlington hotel paid a fine of $200 and costs for similar offence.

During the past two years, according to a return of the Bureau of Statistics, the province of Alberta has held the premier position among the coal producing provinces of Canada, with Nova Scotia, the former leader, a close second, and British Columbia third, and Saskatchewan and New Brunswick following in order.

There are sunsets that are sacramental in their beauty. There are forest vistas that make the heart ache with joy. There are blends of color unearthly in their loveliness. But the most beautiful thing on earth is a noble character.
